How do you maintain discipline in Collective Worship?

In need of some simple practical techniques?

How do you command a presence in front of children?

How do you keep children listening and engaged?

Led by Andy Housam, this course will explore how to present primary Collective Worship in an engaging and stimulating way, whilst at the same time maintaining discipline. The course will have many practical tips on how to make the most of the opportunities we have to present a Christian message to children. Much of this course will be applicable for any work amongst children.

Free to Anglican churches within Christianity
